Exploration Program Launched

The Company's Mali-based technical team, led in the field by Dr. Diallo and under the supervision of Dr. Archibald, is initiating Compass's new exploration program. This work is examining the first of at least 35 anomalies noted for further investigation in the August 2017 "National Instrument 43-101 Technical Report on the Sikasso Property, Southern Mali." The primary objective of the overall program is to test anomalies that had been previously identified primarily through airborne surveying and interpretation of the area.

The exploration team is starting on a portion of the Ouassada area target, part of the Yanfolila permit in the northwestern portion of Compass's property area. Four local geologists, led by Dr. Diallo, are conducting geochemical sampling using the first auger drill mobilized to the site. The team is expected to gather approximately 1,500 samples before the end of the year, which will be sent for assay – along with an appropriate number of international standard reference material samples– to the SGS laboratory in Mali. These first results are expected during the first quarter of the New Year.
